R .COMPREHENTION

Read the following passage then answer the questions below:

China lies in eastern Asia. It is the world's biggest country in population and the fourth largest in area. Only Russia, Canada, and the United States are larger than China. China's population is about 1.3 billion people. Shanghai is China's largest city. The second biggest city is Beijing, the capital. China's great size gives it different kinds of weather and geography. The highest mountains in the world, the Himalayas, lie partly in the west of China. China is also home to huge empty deserts in the north and north west called Gobi Desert and Takla Makan Desert. These deserts have no signs of life as the temperature is very high. Dense Forests cover the far south of China. Asia's longest river, the Yangtze, flows 9,900 miles across China. This river gives China water for its rich farmlands, where tea, cotton, sugarcane and soya beans are grown. It is known that China exports many of its products to all the countries of the world.

Reading Comprehension

Read the following text carefully, then answer the questions below:

While we are asleep at night, some people are at work. Night workers do many important jobs. They sleep during the day. Many cleaners work at night. They clean streets, offices and shops while it is quiet and there are not many people around. Road workers keep our roads safe to drive on. They often repair roads during the night when there is very little traffic. Some railway workers work at night, too. They fix train tracks and railway signals so that trains can travel safely.

People are also needed to drive trains and buses. Pilots fly planes at night, too. Many goods – such as fresh food and newspapers – have to be delivered every day. Some truck drivers work through the night to make sure that these goods arrive on time. Most bakers start work while it is still dark. They bake at night so that the bread will be fresh when it goes on sale in the morning.

News stories don't only happen during the day. Some reporters need to work during the night to make sure that all the news is up to date. Hospital patients need to be looked after twenty four hours a day. Many doctors and nurses need to work at night. Fires, accidents and other emergencies can happen at any time. So, there are always firefighters, police and ambulance workers on duty.

READING COMPREHENSIONN0

Read the following passage then answer the questions below:

A zoo is a place where you can find animals from different countries. There is usually at least one zoo in every country. In Kuwait, there is only one zoo but in England, there are five zoos. The biggest one is in London.

Some people don't like zoos. They think it is not right to keep wild and tame animals in cages. Others think that animals in zoos have good food every day and if they get ill, they are given medicine. They don't worry about natural enemies. In the forest, small animals can't protect themselves. They will be eaten by the larger animals. In the zoo, small animals are safe. Most of us enjoy the visit to the zoo. We can watch the animals, which we can't see in the forest because it is not safe for us.

Sometimes, visitors to a zoo are very unkind to the animals. They throw things at them or feed them with the wrong foods. So, I advise all of you to treat animals in the zoo kindly and nicely.
