VI-Reading Comprehension

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions :

Right now, I am looking at a shelf full of books, relics, old-timers and antiques. Yes, that's right. If you have some spare cash and are looking to enhance your reading experience, then I highly invite you to purchase an e-reader. E-readers are replacing the old books, and I welcome them with open arms.

An e-reader is a device that allows you to read e-books. An e-book is a book which is published in digital form, consisting of text, images, or both. It is produced on, published through, and is readable on computers or other electronic devices. The Oxford Dictionary of English defines the e-book as "an electronic version of a printed book". E-readers are superior to printed books in many aspects. One of these aspects is saving space. The average e-reader can store thousands of digital books, providing a real library at your fingertips. Moreover, being the size and weight of a thin cover, the e-reader itself is relatively petite. It is easy to hold and can fit in a pocketbook or briefcase easily. Perhaps the only drawback to the space-saving aspect of an e-reader is that it requires you to find new things to put on your shelves.

In addition, e-readers are superior to books because they are environmentally friendly. The average novel is about 300 pages long. So, if a novel is printed 1000 times, it will use 300,000 pieces of paper. That's a lot of paper! If there are about 80,000 pieces of paper in a tree, this means it takes almost 4 trees to make these 1000 books. Since e-readers use no trees, they represent a significant amount of preservation in terms of the environment and its resources.

Finally, e-readers are also superior to books because they provide helpful reading tips and tools that printed books do not. An e-reader allows its user to customize letter size, font, and line spacing. It also allows highlighting and electronic bookmarking. Furthermore, it grants users the ability to get an overview of a book and then jump to a specific location based on that overview. While these are all nice features, perhaps the most helpful of all is the ability to get dictionary definitions at the touch of a finger. On even the most basic e-reader, users can get instant definitions without having to hunt through a physical dictionary.

A- From a, b, c and d choose the correct answer:

VII - Summary Making

- Read the following passage, then do as required:

It is well known that some cultures prefer sons to daughters. Sons are wanted because they can work to help the family earn income. Also, sons will be able to support their parents when the parents are old. In some countries, sons are important because the family name will continue for another generation. This is because the wife in these cultures take her husband's family name, and sometimes belongs to the husband's family. Not only that, but having a daughter can sometimes cause difficulty for the family. In India, for example, having a daughter can be a burden. Families must save a lot of money to pay a dowry when the girl gets married. According to a survey done in 2000, people in some developed countries would prefer to have daughters. Researchers said that parents in these societies do not have the same economic reasons that exist in other countries, so they do not need to have a son to help make money.

VI Reading Comprehension

Read the following passage and answer the questions below:

Research suggests that walking may not make you a genius but it will improve your attention and concentration and help your mood, well-being and even your physical health.

Regular physical exercise such as walking has been shown to help improve both mental and physical health. Certainly, the many physical health benefits of regular exercise are well known and researched. Ongoing regular exercise can improve heart performance, lead to more weight loss, and boost metabolism, the process by which the body changes food into energy. Research has found that regular exercise lowers anxiety, depression, stress and concentration.

Yet, even with all these wonderful benefits of regular exercise, the vast majority do not meet even minimal recommended amount of exercise. There are a variety of reasons for this lack of exercise including time pressures and lack of commitment to do so. This is one reason why walking is such an important exercise for most people.

Many may not afford the time energy and money to join a health club or gym or perhaps participate in exercise activities that are harder to do. Many sports, which are skill based, may result in injury, and cost a lot of money. Walking is perfect since you can do it anywhere and at any time and it does not need special equipment. Most of us can do walk and must find a way to make that happen.

One helpful way to improve walking is to always wear a pedometer, an instrument that calculates the distance travelled on foot by recording the number of steps taken. They provide feedback on your walking progress and most professionals suggest aiming for 10,000 steps per day. This translates into about 8 km of walking. A pedometer is a great motivator since it gives you an accurate description of your exercise activity. Walking may be long or short but as long as you keep your body, you will accumulate more steps. Therefore, you'll likely notice that your thinking is clearer, you are more attentive, happier, and you'll lose some weight and have a good shape.

A- From a, b, c and d choose the suitable answer:

- d) money

30- The meaning of the word “accumulate” in the last paragraph is:

- a) gain
- b) waste
- c) decrease
- d) divide

31- What can be understood from the 4th paragraph?

- a) Walking is the most convenient activity.
- b) Walking causes depression, stress and anxiety.
- c) Walking is not affected by psychological factors.
- d) All people follow the recommendation for doing exercises.

32- According to the text, which of the following statements is NOT TRUE?

VII- SUMMARY MAKING

- Read the following passage, then do as required:

I'm surprised that you seem to find no fault at all with computers. I quite agree with you that they are excellent means of entertainment and a valuable source of information. But you seem to forget that they have also become a source of addiction to many children. A lot of mothers nowadays complain about the fact that their children have become so obsessed with their computers and the Internet that they lose contact with their friends and so grow lonely. Besides, their health is affected as they spend long hours sitting in front of the screen. Their eyes hurt and their backs ache. In addition to that they become less performing at school because of this time consuming activity. They don't find time to do their homework well or to do some reading. Apart from that using the Internet for a long time may lead to the impoverishment of young pupil's language skills because the language used on the Internet is not only full of mistakes but it often consists of abbreviations and unfinished sentences , which doesn't help young peoples to improve their learning.
