B- Reading Comprehension (16 m.)

Read the following passage and then answer the questions below:

Thousands of car accidents happen every day all over the world. They simply take place because people break traffic laws and drive carelessly. Many car drivers face these accidents but they don't know what to do at that difficult time. Here are some tips to follow after accidents if you are one of those unlucky people. The most important thing is to stay quiet. If the driver ran away, try to get his car number, and then call the police. If anyone is hurt, call the emergency or the ambulance quickly.

Be ready to give your exact location when you call. Know street number and highway names to help them reach easily. While you are waiting for the police to arrive, take notes about what happened. Write down a description of the other vehicles or cars involved and the names of everyone involved in the accident. If possible take pictures of the accident scene .When the police arrive, tell them what happened calmly.
